This week has not been without profit to the democratic party. A new ticket has been discovered: "Tilden and Hendry."

The women have established another good point against the men. Of 45,000 persons arrested in Paris last year, only 6,000 were women.

Mr. Beecher got a little more than one dollar for every mile he traveled during his recent lecture engagement. He traveled 19,000 miles, and received $21,000.

Whenever distinguished Europeans, whether artists, judges, or orators, want a little fun and a fat purse, they come to America for a season. They never return disappointed.

General Neal Dow says that the prohibitionists of Maine have made up their minds to break with the republican party. That is not new. They have been breaking for some time.

The "Sweet singer of Michigan," has never been able to produce anything like the following which comes from a newly discovered poet in Tennessee:

Thomas H. March, made a mistake when he quit cutting stone in Maine and went to congress. After serving four years, he thought himself as big a man as Stagger Sullivan, and then went to Boston and set himself up in the saloon business. And Boston takes pride in this enterprise.

Sometimes the cables that lie low at the bottom of the great Atlantic and join continent to continent, bring from the old world to the new, some messages of momentous importance. Like the following, for instance, about the Salvation army:

LONDON, October 23, 1882.—Before the regular business of the evening opened Mr. Bramwell Booth's interesting baby was publicly enrolled in the Salvation Army by his grandpa. Theatrical shouts of Hallelujah, varied by exclamations of "Ain't he a little beauty?" accompanied the ceremony.

When the marvelous newswelling cables deal in such great concerns at that, we can more fully appreciate their importance.

The Manhattan Monthly for November, is a splendid number of that enterprising and growing magazine. The current number contains a chapter on Henry Irving, accompanied with portraits of Mr. Irving and Miss Ellen Terry, besides the balcony scene in "Romeo and Juliet." The illustrations are among the best that can be found in our magazines, and the chapter on Irving, and his work, will be read with interest. Another finely illustrated article on "Wordsworth and the modern age"—the text being excellent and the illustrations showing the best examples of modern engraving. There are other illustrated articles of more or less value to the general reader. The Manhattan is less than a year old, but it has grown in merit and popularity surprisingly fast, and may now be classed among the most worthy illustrated magazines in the United States. It is $3 a year or 25 cents a number. Published by the Manhattan Magazine company, Temple Court, New York city.

DAKOTA CROP STATISTICS.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company has performed the very important work of collecting statistics from the most reliable sources, of the crop results of 1883 in the southern and central counties of Dakota, through which run the lines of that company.

There are thirty counties touched by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road in that territory, which had a population in 1882, of 130,000, and in 1883, of 191,000. The acreage of wheat reached 419,700, which averaged 21 bushels to the acre. There were 210,650 acres of oats which averaged 35 bushels to the acre. The 23,510 acres of rye yielded 30 bushels to the acre, and 52,990 acres of barley, 35 bushels.

No other territory, or those that have become states, can show such a splendid crop record as this; and no territory was ever before grazed by railways as Dakota. The railway building in that territory during the past three years, is one of the marvels of the age, and still the work is going on. The railways have made the territory, for without them the great stretch of wheat lands from the western line of Minnesota to the Missouri, could never have been utilized.

THE CENTER OF MOISTURE.

For a great many years the rain or the moist center in this country was in the east, for rather on the southeast Atlantic coast, while in the far west drought prevailed to a much greater extent than in the old settled portions of the country. The eastern papers have had much to say of late regarding the great lack of rains in the New England states, and it is not only becoming a serious question to farmers, but doubly serious to manufacturers, who depend upon water as a motive power. Many mills have been compelled to stop for want of water and in a great many sections of the east the crops have suffered materially on account of the drought.

The cause of this striking and important climatic change is probably difficult to state. There was a time when the center of rainfall was in the south—along the coast of Florida; and the charts made by the department of the interior in 1870, showed that the greatest humidity was in that section of the United States. But all this has been changed. Rivers that were once quite pretentious, are now insignificant. Rains that used to be frequent and heavy are much less frequent now and are much lighter. In New England water-powers that were thought to be as permanent as the hills, are troublesomely uncertain, and cause a heavy loss to manufacturers.

But in the west there has been an important change. Although some of the smaller western rivers have almost become nameless, there has been a great improvement in the rainfalls. That population and advancing civilization has anything to do with this climatic change may be questioned by some, but the fact nevertheless remains that with the settlement of new states and territories, with the planting of trees, with the building of railways, with the constructing of telegraph lines, and with the tilling of the soil, comes a better condition of the atmosphere. Grasshoppers used to visit Kansas, Nebraska, and western Minnesota once in four or five years, but they haven't been to any extent for seven years. They flourished here, during the dry season, and as the soil and atmosphere become more humid, their visits become less frequent and their numbers much reduced.

DR. HAMMOND'S ESTIMATE OF WOMEN.

Last August Dr. William A. Hammond, late surgeon general of the United States army, wrote an article for the North American Review, on "Woman's Politics." In this article he gave what he called anatomical and physiological reasons why women are not fit for politics, and why suffrage should not be conferred upon them. It was a well written article from Dr. Hammond's point of view of the question, and contained many suggestions of value. Whether his reasonings were sound is not for us to affirm or deny. His grounds for holding that women are not equal to men when it comes to battling with politics, and engaging in the coarser and heavier work of life, are 1) that her brain is not as large as the man's; 2) that physically, she is not able to do the work of a man; 3) that she is too emotional, hysterical, weak and trifling, to stand out prominently and commandingly in the political and business world; and 4) that to franchise woman and throw her into politics, would blot out her dignity, and drag her from the honorable position she now occupies, and make her an object of ridicule and contempt.

This "attack" on woman has been answered by Mrs. Lillie Blake, Miss Nina Marais, Mrs. Sara A. Underwood, and Dr. Clemence Sophia Lozier, each one having an article in the North American Review for November. With such an artillery force as this, there is not much left of Dr. Hammond's position. They fire on all sides, and use all sorts of ammunition. They make a great deal of noise, and once in a while fire a pretty straight shot. They state a great many truths, and keep a great many in the background.

Mrs. Blake attacks Dr. Hammond on his theory that woman has a smaller brain than man which destroys her functional activity. Her chief point against the doctor is that according to Broca when a man has less than 39 ounces of brain he is an idiot, while a woman is competent to attend to the ordinary duties of life when she has 32 ounces. She also claims that many of the difficult mathematical calculations connected with the building of the Brooklyn bridge, were made by Mrs. Roebling while her husband lay helpless from rheumatism. The others follow pretty much the same line of argument, but in addition, show that women are as strong to endure hardship, pain, disappointment, reverses of fortune, the struggle for a living, and the buffets of the world, as men, and on the whole are more courageous and hopeful than men. This is the strongest argument used by the women in answering Dr. Hammond. Their articles are interesting if not altogether logical, and contain many suggestions and facts that will prove profitable to all persons interested in the subject of woman's suffrage.

THE NATION'S WARDS.

Brief Synopsis of the Annual Report of Indian Commissioner Hiram Price.

A More Thorough Educational System and Less Whisky the Solution of the Problem.

Congress Urged to Make an Increase in the Appropriations for Several Purposes.

The Redskins.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Liam Price, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, submitted his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior. He calls attention to the fact that the general condition of the Indians in 1882 is in advance of the Indians of 1881. Among the things needed to secure success and efficiency in solving what is called the Indian problem he enumerates: 1. An appropriation to survey the outposts of Indian reservations, so that both Indians and white men may know where they have rights and where they have none. This will save not only much trouble and expense but many lives of both white men and Indians. 2. A law for the punishment of persons who furnish arms or ammunition to Indians. No such law now exists. 3. More liberal appropriations for Indian schools. 4. An appropriation of money sufficient to defray the expenses of detecting and prosecuting persons who furnish intoxicating liquor to Indians.

The reports of his predecessors, he says, for the last thirty years, agree with singular unanimity in reference to the trouble among Indians growing out of the use of intoxicating liquors, and the fact has been established beyond controversy that it has been productive of more disease, crime and loss of life than all other causes combined. In this connection he asks that the law allowing army officers to take whisky into the Indian country be repealed. He says no ardent spirits should be introduced into the Indian country under any pretense whatever, nor the sale permitted within twenty miles of an Indian reservation.

He asks that appropriations for the Indian service be made more in bulk, and not cut up into two hundred and sixty different heads, as it militates against the efficiency of the service. He also calls to the fact that during the last four years $775,221 were paid claim agents for the Indians for collecting from the Government money due the Indians. He denounces the practice in strong language. Mr. Price recommends that Congress confer both civil and criminal jurisdiction with their respective laws, except where such powers are expressly exempted by treaty or act of Congress, and give the Indian all the rights in the courts enjoyed by other persons. During the year 140 certificates and patents to lands in severalty were issued to Indians of various tribes. He asks that Indians be allowed to make homesteads without payment of the fees now required. He regards the law for the punishment of intruders on the Indian reservation as entirely inadequate. All that can at present be done is to remove the intruder, or if he reappears to bring a civil suit against him in the nature of an action of debt to recover the statutory penalty of $1,000.

The Commissioner notes an encouraging increase in the attendance of Indian pupils at boarding and day schools during the year just closed. The number of Indians in Alaska is placed at 20,000. On this subject the report says: "If the public statistics in reference to Alaska be true, we are doing much less for the civilization of these people than was done before we took possession of that country. The Russian Government gave them laws, churches and schools; the American Government has done nothing in that direction. The Commissioner reports the difficulties between the factions of the Creek nation as amicably adjusted.

Another Slain Beauty.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 27.—Friday the body of a handsome woman about twenty-five or thirty years of age was found lying in a small stream at Saugatuck. There was a deep gash in the forehead over the right eye. The body was identified as that of a Mrs. Coville, a milliner at South Norwalk. It is impossible to get anything but the most meager details of the tragedy, but there are good reasons for believing it a case of murder. Had the woman sought the brook for the purpose of suicide, she would without doubt have been under the water. As the case stands at this writing, it looks as if another mystery was to follow close on the heels of the Rose Ambler case.

Angry Attorneys.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—In the investigation of the Jersey Central lease to the Reading Road at Trenton, Friday, Mr. Gowen asserted that ex-Senator Conkling's method of examining a witness was "violent, brutal and outrageous." Mr. Conkling retorted that Gowen's language was foul-mouthed, when Judge Nixon interposed and secured peace. Later on Conkling whispered to one of the auditors, when Gowen claimed that the ex-Senator had called the witness a d-d scoundrel. Conkling's reply to this was that one who repeated a remark thus overheard was a blackguard. This resulted in an exciting scene, the clerk, in the absence of the judge, finally restoring order.

Express Pouch Stolen.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 27.—An employee of the express company here was robbed Thursday night of the express pouch, containing between $5,000 and $6,000. While engaged in lifting heavy express matter into a car, one strap that held the pouch was cut from behind by a man, who secured the prize and disappeared in the darkness before an alarm could be given. Five thousand dollars of the money had been sent from the Cass County Bank. It is supposed that the robber knew that the cash was to go East on the evening train. There is no clue.

Impaled by a Red-Hot Rail.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 27.—Michael Dirkin, aged forty, was riding the rails at the steel-mill of the Lackawanna Iron & Steel Company. A red-hot rail from the rolls struck him in the back just above the hips and penetrated his body, killing him instantly.

British Gold Coming.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The steamship Gallia, which sails from Liverpool to-day, takes out $100,000 in gold coin for the British Bank of North America.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Five Thousand Deaths in One Town Within Two Months—Appearance of the Scourge in Panama—Cholera in Egypt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—In the middle of August last J. A. Robertson and a party of five went down to Mazatlan with the intention of purchasing a sugar plantation. Yellow fever was found to prevail to such an extent in the place that the party immediately beat a retreat, and as soon as they had gone into the country every one of them was taken down with the disease, one dying. After recovering, Robertson returned to Mazatlan, waiting an opportunity to get away from the pesthole. Up to the time of leaving, October 15, 5,000, or one-third of the population, had died. The local papers stated that during the first week of September there had been 430 coffin burials; but as a large portion of the population was in abject poverty it was estimated the death rate was fully 900 during the week. The day Robertson left eleven bodies were thrown overboard from the Mexican gunboat Democrito, lying in the harbor. Of the large American colony only two escaped an attack of the fever, and the names of seven well-known San Franciscans are given as having died. Robertson believed the fever was at an end, it having nothing more to feed on. The virulence of the plague was such that in some cases persons died thirty minutes after being seized with the disease. WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The Court of Inquiry investigating the origin of the yellow fever at the naval station at Pensacola says it may have come from germs remaining in Pensacola after the epidemic of last year. The first fatal case this year was that of a child which was first supposed to be a case of cholera, but was later found to be a case of yellow fever. The child died in the house in which the child died was used as an ice-cream saloon, frequented by marines and others.

PANAMA, Oct. 26.—Several cases of yellow fever are reported in the interior of Nicaragua. Senator Pro-Barrientos is one of the latest victims. ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 26.—The cholera has reappeared in Raymon, on the west side of the Nile, and at Ziftah.

A CORPULENT CORPSE.

The Fat Girl Recently Married in New York Dies Suddenly in Baltimore—Some Speculations.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 27.—Mrs. David Moses, formerly Miss Blanche Gray, of Detroit, who was married a few weeks ago in the Bowery Museum in New York, was found dead in bed at her boarding-house in this city. She was passing her honeymoon at the Dilce Museum in this city, but for the past two weeks has been much indisposed. Her manager called to see her on business, and on entering her room found her dead.

The doctors express the opinion that death was caused by excess of fat about the heart. Deceased was born in Detroit seventeen years ago, and weighed twenty-five pounds at birth. When twelve years old she weighed 150, and at her last marriage 217 pounds. She found so much difficulty in ascending to the second floor of the museum building here that the manager had erected a derrick on the outside of the museum of Philadelphia, where she was to have appeared next week, so as to convey her to the fourth story every day. Deceased gained nearly seventy pounds last month, and weighed eighty-one inches around the chest and twenty-five inches around the upper part of the arm. The internment will be made here.

The undertaker says the coffin required is the largest that he has ever been called on to furnish. Its dimensions are: Length, six feet four inches in depth, three feet two inches width, three feet.

It was ascertained from Dr. McDevitt, who attended Mrs. Moses, that she was in an advanced stage of pregnancy, having been enceinte for the past five months. This discovery excited much interest and aroused suspicions as to the indirect cause of the woman's death.

Fire at Dubuque.

Dubuque, Ia., Oct. 27.—An incendiary fire Thursday night gutted Rocklin Brothers' Dugby Toy Factory and Faherty's agricultural, sewing-machine and music rooms, all located in one block at the foot of Main street. The flames broke out in the second story of Rocklin's works, and swept with such fury that nothing is left but the walls. Rocklin carried out his machinery to their new shops in East Dubuque, and were soon to abandon their old works. The buildings destroyed were owned by John Burt, D. N. Cooley and J. D. Bush, respectively, and were insured. Rocklin Brothers carried an insurance on their machinery and stock. Faherty's stock was damaged $700 by water and removal. The entire loss sets up about $20,000, partly covered by insurance.

Plots of the Orleansists.

BENTON, Oct. 27.—Reports received here from Paris state that measures intended to aid the Orleansist movement are taking an extremely active form, and that money is likely to be used with great freedom, should it become apparent that it will answer the purposes of the Royalists faction. One report says definitely that the wealthy followers of the Bourbons have raised a special fund of 100,000,000 francs, which it is proposed to distribute among the Deputies of the French Chamber for the purpose of securing their influence and obtaining their votes. This report is, however, discredited by the Tugboat, which to a certain extent may be regarded as representing general official sentiment. The Orleansists are seeking sympathy here as well as at Vienna.

Bits of Gossip from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Secretary Folger will resume his duties to-day. Major Butterworth, the new Commissioner of Patents, has signed his commission. The President has appointed Max Polach, of Chicago, United States Consul at Ghent, and John S. Tooker, Secretary of the Territory of Montana, vice McCutcheon, resigned.

Pope Leo's Threat.

ROME, Oct. 27.—It is stated that the Pope will declare the Pantheon a pagan temple if a monument to Victor Emmanuel is erected in the center, as intended by King Humbert.

A Ninety-Nine Years' Sentence.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 27.—Senate Ogle, alias W. Sullivan, has been sentenced to ninety-nine years in the penitentiary for complicity in the murder of Allen and William Sayes.

Lord Coleridge at Yale College.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—Lord Coleridge ran up here from New York yesterday and addressed the Yale students. His Lordship and party were pleasantly entertained later by President Porter.

A FEW TIMELY REMARKS!

Years ago we almost continually had traveling stores disposing of accumulated shelf worn stock. Of course we sold goods for "50 Cents on a dollar," and there were plenty of people anxious to secure the bargains?—Not the second time, however! Well we accomplished our object, and then established a permanent store in one of the busiest towns of the state, the cash sales of which exceed those of any Clothing Store in Janesville. This outlet enables us to buy goods in such quantities as to command the very lowest prices; to take advantage of any large lot that a dealer may wish to close out at a bargain, and to keep our stock free from unsaleable goods that take up room and interest on money. Under these circumstances we can, WILL and DO, sell goods cheaper than any house in this part of the state; we furnish a much larger assortment from which to make selections and are the only house in Janesville that ever dared to mark goods in plain figures and stick to the price every time, thereby extending a uniform treatment to all. The time of our salesmen is not spent in "wrestling" over the price, but in doing their utmost to please customers and money will be returned for any goods misrepresented by them. Our Fall and Winter stock is now ready for your inspection and you are perfectly safe in looking it over without fear of being importuned to buy or make an offer. The prices, in plain figures speak for themselves and we think talk pretty loud. Come and hear them talk. Respectfully,
M. C. SMITH & SON, One Price Square Dealing Clothiers.

THE BURNS TRAGEDY.

The Evidence Produced Hardly Strong Enough to Prove Carpenter a Murderer.

The Reward for the Victim's Sachel Increased to $500—Testimony Before the Coroner's Jury.

Two Hair-Pins Furnish a New Clue.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 27.—Another day has passed unproductive of developments in the mysteries surrounding the murder of Zora Burns.

All excitement has abated, and the general opinion seems to be that the detective have got to the end of their tether.

There is nothing now left for the Coroner's Jury but to await the conclusion of Prof. Wheeler's analysis of the stains on Carpenter's buggy attachments and return a verdict.

What that verdict will be is impossible to surmise. They have no evidence on which to say that Zora Burns was the victim of a murder.

They may express suspicion of him. Public sentiment is now almost evenly divided as to his guilt, though believing him to be a murderer being slightly in the majority.

No other theory has been advanced. No other theory has been advanced since the innocence of Zora and Cabbage was proved to be beyond question.

Today the search for Zora's missing sachel was prosecuted diligently, the reward for its recovery having been increased from $100 to $500.

State's Attorney, Forrest will go to Dakota to endeavor to bring Mrs. Frank Dakota, Zora's sister, here. This will take several days, and promises to lengthen out the Coroner's inquest.

The mysterious Mrs. Carpenter, of Decatur, arrived in this city Friday. When interviewed, she stated that she was here on an important errand connected with the murder of Zora Burns, but that she would not tell any person what she knows or what her business is here.

In response to inquiries she stated that since her return to Decatur from this place, where she had been given some testimony damaging to her, she had been approached by several different persons, who had tried to influence her to contradict her previous testimony.

She said that one of the parties who did this was named Miller, but she does not know his first name or place of residence.

Others made the same charge, she says, representing that they were acting in Carpenter's behalf. It was intimated to her that on acceptance of these propositions, she would be rewarded. She claims to know their names, and refuses to tell them.

The testimony regarding the hair-pins seems unimportant, but has nevertheless caused considerable comment. The hair-pins so much alike were brand new.

Mr. Burns stated that on the day Zora left he had purchased her a nickel's worth of new hair-pins of the same kind as those found on the body of the girl.

This is a circumstance which bears out the theory that the girl was murdered, and while the girl was in the buggy her hair came down and the pins were thus lost.

Zora always wore her hair done up in a coil behind, and when found it was undone and disheveled. An effort was made to find out if the Carpenter daughters were the same kind of girls.

But no satisfactory answer was obtained. The inference not to talk about the case to newspaper men is obeyed to the letter.

The first witness yesterday was M. Y. Lawler, an engineer employed at Lincoln coal plant. He swore that he saw a woman wearing a dark dress, light hat and light neckwear, on the street near Carpenter's elevator Sunday night, October 26, about seven o'clock.

Owing to the darkness he could not distinguish the woman's features, but thought she resembled the murdered girl, whom he saw after death.

The girl was evidently intoxicated, and he thought she was acting queerly. She was attending to her own business.

The presence of O. A. Carpenter in Peoria August 14 and 15, with a woman registered as his daughter, was shown by the Peoria House register, and one of the Peoria House registers, and one of the Peoria House registers.

Miss Emma Leeds, one of the intimates of the girl, was called to the stand. She was taken from the stand by some found in Carpenter's buggy after her arrest, and found the girl's hair.

They were of a very common variety.

Miss Kate Madden, who was reported to have been abducted, put in an appearance before the jury and was present. She denied the charge.

On Sunday night, October 23, while on his way to church, a woman walking south on the Chicago and Alton Railroad track.

First saw the lady come north from the Nolte House turn, west on Pekin street, and go south on the railroad.

She was going to the church, and followed her because she thought she would be company for her.

She went south to the south end of Carpenter's elevator and turned in toward the building.

I was then at the north end of the elevator. The last I saw of her was when she turned the corner to go into the elevator.

It was near seven o'clock when I saw her. She had on dark clothing.

I first spoke of seeing the woman to the lady, but I did not see whether she had on a hat with a white plume. I don't believe I could have seen a white plume in the dark.

This concluded the testimony, and Judge Attorney Forrest asked if there were more witnesses and thought they should adjourn until they heard from Prof. Wheeler of Chicago, who was examining through a microscope the buggy slides and whip used by Carpenter. The jury then adjourned until Monday morning at nine o'clock.

Belva Lockwood Accused.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The Commissioner of Pensions has discovered irregularities in the practice of Belva A. Lockwood, the female lawyer, who has a large number of cases pending before the Pension Bureau.

DOUBLE MURDER.

TOLEDO, Oct. 27.—The particulars of a horrible double murder near Wauseon, O., committed last Tuesday night, have just come to light, the victims being George W. Williams and his wife, who have been married less than a year.

According to all accounts the last seen of Williams was on Tuesday night last about six o'clock. He had been to the village of Wauseon that day, and on his return he had stopped at the house of a relative to take home a few apples.

He left shortly after dark and was found on the following morning in his barn, with his head split open and his throat cut so that his head was nearly severed from his body.

The party finding the body of the murdered man was a friend, who at once proceeded to alarm the neighbors, who hastened to the scene of the tragedy, and on entering the house were struck with the sight of a woman lying on the floor with her head cut open and her brains scattered around.

In the bed near the body of the murdered woman lay a two-months-old baby, just alive. Near the body of each of the victims were huge clots of blood that had oozed out and lay in little heaps.

The discovery of the double murder was made so intense, and in a few hours hundreds were at the place. A few hours later a man named Wesley Johnson, who had been in Wauseon on the day of the supposed murder with Williams, and returned now in jail at Napoleon, was arrested.

Johnson, when arrested, had been away to a place where he had a relative, and had returned with a new coat. When searched he had about five dollars on his person. He had disappeared on Thursday, and when apprehended took the matter very coolly.

On the day before he was seen to enter a watch, which was found and proved to be the property of the murdered man. A pit belonging to Mr. Williams was also found on him. He stoutly denied his guilt, but can not explain away the evidence of his guilt.

He is thought to have been accessory to the attempted killing, but his employer has not yet been named. He had $700 in the house at the time. It is supposed that he had a confederate who had the barn, thinking to get the family out of the house and then rob it.

The scheme failed, as suspicion was awakened by his peculiar actions. Williams was aged twenty-four and his wife, a native of Ohio, was aged twenty-two.

They were reported to be a very respectable couple, and had a large family of farm produce.

Chronic Diseases.
A Special Study for Years.

Dr. F. B. BREWER,
[Has made Chronic Diseases (of the) Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Nerves and Blood.

Special treatment for years. He is not a boastful, ignorant pretender, but an educated physician, seeking to do good, by devoting his talents and energies to the treatment of a class of cases that have been with him a long and painful study. He is able to treat successfully chronic diseases. It requires that a physician should be a sound, thorough scholar in the art of science and medicine generally. He should give his entire time to his study. He should be in his investigations and have a long and varied experience. Dr. Brewer claims to work no wonders or to do any more than any well educated physician can do, who devotes his whole time to the study and treatment of chronic diseases exclusively, and has had his many years of experience. For years Dr. Brewer has visited the places he now visits, and has obtained his reputation by being honest in his dealings, candid in his opinions and reasonable in his charges. Those who are afflicted are invited to call on him and get a cure for themselves. He will not do anything to do so. Address M. D. Dr. F. B. Brewer will be at Janesville, Wis., on Saturdays and Sundays the 24th and 25th of November.

EMORY'S LITTLE CATAPLANT PILLS are sufficiently powerful for the most robust yet the safest for children and weak constitutions.—15 cents.

A SINGLY HERITAGE.

[Mary H. C. Booth.]

I have a little drop of blood

Whose course is wild and free—

Sometimes I feel it in my soul

And sometimes in my feet

Sometimes it comes in a chill

And sometimes like a flood

And often I am deluged with this

Little drop of blood.

I know from whence the heritage—

From out the hearts of kings

Sometimes it grows ethereal

And spreads itself in wings

And then I feel the souls of winds

Go bearing me away

Back to the high ancestral halls

Where jeweled fountains play

Within the royal temple's aisles

Divine singers sing

And at the holy altar shrines

The sweetest music comes

The incense of whose pure perfume

Melts through the azure dome

And comes again in spirit tones

In the "Mighty Spirit's" home.

The crowns that grace the laughing brows

Were not of yellow gold and stones

But of the hearts of true men

Their palaces—the boundless woods

Their shrines—the forest bowers

Their singers—all the birds of heaven

Their censer cups—the flowers.

The temples that they worshipped in—

They were not made with hands

And they had their altars of stone

Wide as the earth, high as the sky

And when the mighty buffalo

With their majestic tread

Went shaking down the stars from heaven—

From the hunting grounds of earth

The brave to whom the spirit spoke

Replied with a sacred song

And with his death-song on his lips

He laid him down and died

Yeshu, O kindly ancestor!

Beneath the cedar trees

Thy voice of peace is still about

Upon the woodland breeze.

Sometimes they tramp across my heart

As though a hunting-ground—

I feel a hundred lions leap

Within it at a bound!

This little drop of blood,

And yet it is the heart of kings

As if a thousand continents

Were lifted in my soul!

Highlights the secret council fires

Within my heart and brain

At which the soul in silence sits

Briefs.

Sudden changes in the weather now-a-days.

County Clerk S. Morgan went to Beloit to-day.

The common council will hold a regular meeting on Monday evening.

Mr. Joseph Kilp, of Oshkosh, is in the city visiting relatives and friends.

The Sons of Temperance meet this evening in their lodge room in Lappin's block.

America Lodge No. 20, Daughters of Rebecca, hold their regular meeting this evening.

Janesville chapter No. 5, R. A. M. hold a special meeting in Masonic hall this evening.

Mr. Sumner Parker, of the town of La Prairie, is reported as very sick at his home in that town.

One drunk was arrested yesterday afternoon, loitering around the lower end of the east side park.

Captain F. F. Stevens has commenced building a new house on South Bluff street, third ward.

C. C. Olin, manager of the Mineral Rock Spring, at Waukesha, is in the city to-day, attending to business.

Consult the church directory, published in another column of the Gazette, and then attend church to-morrow.

The hours for the evening service in all the churches has been changed to 7:00 o'clock, instead of 7:30 as heretofore.

Mr. G. Veeder has just received an assortment of audiotapes, to enable deaf people to hear. Apply at the Times office.

Mr. L. M. Nelson, the junior of the county court house, is busy just now cleaning the building and making ready for cold weather.

The examination of John Johnson, the tramp arrested last Monday in Clinton, was concluded in the municipal court last evening, and Johnson was held for trial.

Candidates for aldermanic honors do not loom up to an alarming extent in the first ward. Step to the front, gentlemen, the city must have the services of one of your number.

Miss Susie Pomeroy, of Safford, Connecticut has returned home with her aunt and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pomeroy, and will spend the winter visiting among relatives and friends.

"Tunk" Newell's Mukdoo picnic party dined at the Myers house to-day. They were enroute from Independence, Iowa, to Watertown, Wisconsin showing in the latter city this evening.

Whitewater Register—"Mrs. E. L. Dimock, of Janesville, was a guest of her cousin, Mrs. L. A. Winchester, over Sunday. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Clark, on her return home."

Messrs. Evenson & Parker have a supply of Platt & Co.'s celebrated Baltimore oysters, which they serve up in the latest styles, at their restaurant on South Main street. They are good. Try 'em.

One of our business firms report that so far during the month of October, they have saved three dollars and fifty cents on letter postage, by the reduction of the price of stamps from three to two cents.

There will be preaching in German in the Sunday school room of the Court Street Methodist church to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, by the pastor of the German Methodist church, of Fort Atkinson. All are cordially invited.

Miss Ella A. Cross, who has been spending the week in this city with her friends, returned to-day to her home in Elgin, Ill., and was accompanied by Miss Nellie G. Russ, who will remain there a few days.

The Rev. Robert Hogoboom, late of the New York central conference, is in the city visiting his brother, Mr. H. S. Hogoboom. He is on his way to Austin, Nevada, to which place he has been transferred. He will preach at Court Street church to-morrow morning.

About fifty or sixty young people assembled at the residence of Mrs. M. D. McHenry last evening, the occasion being a surprise party on Mrs. McHenry's oldest daughter, Miss Rena. The merry party had a royal good time and the evening flew too swiftly by. Anderson's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing, and happiness reigned supreme among all who participated in the social gathering.

The proceedings of the La Crosse meeting of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association, held August 14th, 15th and 16th, 1893, have been published, and are now ready for distribution. The proceedings are printed in a neat pamphlet of seventy-eight pages, arranged by the secretary of the association, Mr. E. B. Heimstreet, of this city. The little book contains much valuable information for druggists. The pamphlet was printed by the Gazette Printing company.

This is the way the Whitewater Register treats our citizens: "Janesville has a new institution—a hot waffle wagon. It parades the streets driven by a man, while a woman bakes the waffles as they go. The Janesville citizens rush out at its approach, invest a nickel in three waffles, swallow them down, declare that a glass of beer is all that is needed to make them perfect, hasten to repair the defect, and then wait with more or less patience for the waffle wagon's next appearance."

A serious runaway occurred on South Franklin street, between seven and eight o'clock last evening, in which Miss Mary Wilcox, daughter of Mr. C. T. Wilcox, was considerably bruised by being thrown to the ground. It seems Mr. Wilcox and daughter were driving on that street, when they collided with Mr. S. Milford, who was driving one of Harry Carter's colts, their wheels touched and then came the crash. Wilcox's vehicle was badly wrecked, the harness stripped off both horses, and then they made a lively run.

Mrs. J. A. Canlingham's class of the Congregational church Sunday school met last evening for a "tea" in the church parlors, a few invited guests being present.

ont. The girls had during the year, deposited money in small jars for the purpose of collecting funds to be devoted to the current expenses of the missionary ship, the "Morning Star." After "tea" a general conversation on missions and parties was indulged for a time, including the work of the Morning Star. The jars were then broken and their contents counted, which amounted to five dollars. The class enjoyed a very pleasant and profitable evening.

From last evening's Beloit Free Press, we learn that "Matthew, the ten-year old son of Mr. James Keenan, who lives near the water works site, died yesterday afternoon from lockjaw, caused by an injury to one of his legs, received about ten days ago, while he was playing on the millrace used in hoisting stone at the water works tower. The wound consisted of a frightful laceration of the calf of the left leg. The lad appeared to be doing well until a few days ago when indications of lockjaw were noticeable, and Wednesday evening his jaw clinched, and he expired yesterday afternoon.

The members of Book River encampment No. 3, met in special session in Old Fellow's hall last evening, for the purpose of conferring the first degree. Thirty or more members were present, and after the business of the meeting had been passed, the patriarchs sat down to a banquet which had been prepared by Patriarch George Shurtliff. The banquet was all that could be desired, and was relished by all. It being the last meeting night at which Chief Patriarch D. E. Puffer would likely be present for some time, the members took this occasion for a few hours social with that gentleman, and a right jovial time was had. Mr. Puffer expects to leave the city next week, for Appleton, where he has accepted a position in the Appleton boot and shoe factory, a notice of which fact was published in the Gazette several days ago. Mr. Puffer will be greatly missed in the orders of which he is a member here.

Clark, the Beloit bicyclist, who had the brass to think he could ride a wheel, was obliged to draw out of the Chicago race on the second day, and this is the excuse the Free Press gives for so doing: "Bob Clark was obliged to withdraw from the bicycle race, in Chicago, at the close of the second day, because of an important blister which intruded itself between Bob and the saddle of his bicycle. Otherwise he was in good condition physically and by no means perturbed out. His last mile of the second day's race was covered in the best time made during the race, 2:38 and Clark was acknowledged the best man in the field for a sport, and could always run away from the crowd. He will ride a mile Saturday night against time." "The best man in the field for a sport" makes us smile.

The New Factory.

The machinery of the new cotton factory in Monterey has about all been put in place, and a large portion of it is now in operation manufacturing yarn and warp, using from four to six bales of cotton per day, one line of the machinery has been in operation for nearly a week, and others have been put in operation as fast as the machinery could be properly adjusted. The spinning frames, picking, and carding machines, and in fact pretty much all of the machinery except the looms, are now ready and in operation. The looms will be ready by the time the supply of raw cotton is made ready for them, which will be but a few days, when the entire mill will be on a boom. As has already been said in the Gazette, this factory is one of the best in the United States, and Mr. C. A. Bailey, the manager, will be able to turn out the best line of goods in the markets. We learn from those interested in the factory, that all the machinery, so far, is working satisfactorily, and they have no fears of any trouble from imperfect machines.

The True Test

If a man is hungry within an hour more or less after a meal he is dyspeptic, it shows his stomach is not able to digest what he has eaten, but to eat again, and thus impose more work; to abstain. Take Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic which cures dyspepsia, and all stomach, liver, kidney and bladder troubles. It is a perfect tonic, appetizer, blood purifier, a sure cure for ague and malaria diseases. Price 50 cents, of Stearns & Baker.

Almost Drowned.

Miss Lizzie Sullivan had a narrow escape from drowning last night. In company with two lady friends she went up to the Houston & Whitford Mill to see a brother of one of the ladies and returning, the street being very dark, she stepped off into the race, and but for the timely assistance of John Mulligan, the miller, who seized her as she was sinking for the third time, she would undoubtedly have drowned.

In relating her peculiar "under the water sensations" to Mr. J. B. Dow this morning, at whose home she resides, she said that after the first "rush" was over she felt as easy as though being rocked to sleep. She however disclaimed any banking after baptism by immersion of this sort, and could hardly be persuaded to try it again.—Beloit Free Press.

Nearer to Nature.

Nature has made her laws with such wisdom that they are often long or short trouble, which leads on to consumption. Every man believes consumption incurable. People have been educated to this belief, which is proven incorrect by Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure which is nature's great balmy, and it cures consumption and all throat and lung diseases speedily and permanently. Trial bottles free, of Stearns & Baker.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 42 degrees above zero. Cloudy with northeast wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 49 degrees above zero. Cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 30 and 55 degrees above zero.

Griggs' Glycerine Salve.
